Loyalty and fight against injustice are the mantra of the dog. Dogs are Loyal, faithful and honest and always stick to their firm codes of ethics. But the catch is they rarely, if ever, trust others. They tend to have a feeling of insecurity when they are required to trust others. The Dog makes a wonderful, discreet and loyal friend and is an excellent listener. Socially, Dog signs are not too interested to mingle with the mainstream. They don't exactly enjoy parties or get-togethers. They are always concerned on the issues that are most important to them.

Emotionally, they have trouble staying light and calm when an important issue is at stake. This Sign can also be very temperamental; mood swings characterize its emotional life and often the Dog needs a sabbatical in order to recuperate.

In relationships, Dogs often have a tough time finding the right match. They can be so anxious and overwrought in the romance dance that they'll stress their partner to the maximum. !

It would be better if the Dogs work on controlling their irrational worries and would also be well-served to relax their mile-high standards, which can sometimes wind up alienating the ones they love.
